

Session 3 Transnational Class
Presentation 2

Speakers biographies

Dr.Chalernpol Chamchan

Assistant Professor

 Institute for Population and
Social Research

Mahidol University, Thailand

Dr.Kanya Apipornchaisakul

Researcher

 Institute for Population and
Social Research

Mahidol University, Thailand

Dr.Kanchana Thianlai
Researcher

 Institute for Population and
Social Research

Mahidol University, Thailand

- Dr. Chalernpol Chamchan is an Assistant Professor at the Institute for Population and Social Research (IPSR), Mahidol University, Thailand. His research interests concentrate on cross-border migration and migrant populations in Thailand with specific focuses on migrant health and their access to rights, population ageing and the elderly, health system and health policy, and other issues relevant to population studies. His forthcoming and recent publications include 'Preparedness for Old-age Income Security and Support of the Thai Pre-elderly' (a chapter in the forthcoming book Ageing in the Asia Pacific: Interdisciplinary and comparative perspectives), 'Health Security for Cross-border Migrants in Thailand: Where Have we been?' (a chapter in Population and Society 2016), 'Correlates of HIV Testing Experience among Migrant Workers from Myanmar Residing in Thailand: A Secondary Data Analysis' (PLoS ONE), 'Reproductive Health among Migrants in Thailand' (Thailand's Migration Report, 2015). Some recent publications in Thai language include 'When Thai parents need to talk about sex with their children' (2017), 'Evaluation Research on Operation Process and Coordination among Civil Societies and the Health Sector: HIV Prevention Services for Migrant Workers' (2016), 'Achievements and Challenges of AIDS Prevention among Cross-border Migrant Population in Thailand under the Global Fund's Supports' (2016)
- Kanya Apipornchaisakul is a researcher at the Institute for Population and Social Research (IPSR), Mahidol University, Thailand. Her current research focuses on cross-border migrant in Thailand, HIV/AIDS prevention and key populations, sexual and reproductive health and adolescent health. Her forthcoming and recent published works include 'Factors associated with access to HIV Testing of migrant workers in Thailand (in Thai)' (Thai AIDS Journal, forthcoming), 'Migrants in Countries in Crisis: Thailand's Case Study, Migration and Natural Disasters' (a research report of the European Union-funded project), 'Health Security for Cross-border Migrants in Thailand: Where Have we been?' (a chapter in Population and Society 2016), 'The Impact Survey 2014 of the Prevention of HIV/AIDS among Migrant Workers in Thailand Project (PHAMIT-2) (a research report funded by the Global Fund).
- Kanchana Thianlai is a researcher at the Institute for Population and Social Research (IPSR), Mahidol University, Thailand. Her research interests are on population ageing and the elderly, migration and migrant population, health and health system. Recent publications of her works include a series 'Report on Situation of the Thai Elderly' (annual bilingual situational reports 2014-2016 supported by Foundation of Thai Gerontology Research and Development Institute), 'Thai Health Report' (annual bilingual situational reports 2016-2018 supported by ThaiHealth Foundation), 'Family stressors, home demands and responsibilities, coping resources, social connectedness, and Thai older adult health problems: Examining gender variations' (Journal of Aging and Health, 2015), 'Situation of Migrant Children in Skipped-generation Households in Thailand (in Thai)' (a chapter in Population and Society 2015).